Level 1

Level 1 Charging (Slow) - Level 1 charging stations operate on 120V circuits, common in homes and businesses in the United States. They provide slower charging than a Level 2 (240V). Level 1 charging stations can be hardwired or plug-in, depending on model.

Depending on vehicle make and model and the configuration of the Level 1 charging station, recovery of four to eight miles of range can be expected per hour of charging. The most common applications for Level 1 charging are workplace, airports, and other long-term parking.
